Foreign Investment Control

The year 2020 was characterized by major developments in the control of foreign investment, both at the European and national levels.

Moreover, the health crisis has increased the use of existing control mechanisms to oppose foreign investments in certain strategic sectors.

JP Karsenty's teams are mobilized to provide their clients with in-depth and extensive expertise regarding the procedures of control for foreign investments they may receive or make, whether they are French stakeholders active in sectors considered as strategic or foreign investors in France.

The firm assists its clients in understanding and dealing with the law and procedures relating to foreign investment control.

The Foreign Investment Control team is headed by Jean-Philippe Arroyo and is composed of senior and junior associates.
