In the course of its activities, any company is nowadays confronted with the need to conclude contracts in the field of IT and internet communication services. Maintenance, subcontracting, hosting, outsourcing or cloud computing agreements are all examples of agreements that can be designed and structured by our lawyers.

In order to guarantee the best possible protection, technical specificities of such contracts have to be grasped from a legal point of view.

The firm has been working for many years with clients in the field of IT, internet communication and new technologies, and has acquired a recognised practice in drafting and negotiating contracts.

The IT contracts team is headed by Jean-Philippe Arroyo, who is also a member of the « Association pour le Développement de l'Informatique Juridique » (ADIJ) and the « Association Française des Correspondants à la Protection des Données Personnelles » (A.F.C.D.P.).
