Collaborative And Employees Creations And Innovations

Artistic creation and technological innovation are the result of individual or collaborative work, which can sometimes be carried out within the company by one or several employees.

JP Karsenty advises its clients on the negotiation and drafting of contracts related to intellectual property rights that may exist on such a collaborative work.

JP Karsenty assists and represents its clients before the French National Commission for Employee Inventions (CNIS - Commission nationale des inventions de salariés) and before the courts in litigation involving ownership and defense of intellectual property rights.
